

FABER-CASTELL

since 1761

Fine Writing

The pencil dynasty for more than 250 years

Baron Lothar's approach, "... by making the best that can be made in the whole world", has been the benchmark for all subsequent generations.

Faber-Castell encourages creativity with its highest quality artists' products for writing and drawing.

In 1839 he created the world's first name brand pencil and is considered the father of the modern high-quality pencil.

Highest quality and unmistakable design characterize the products of the family-owned company Faber-Castell.

The name Faber-Castell and the family crest were born in 1898 with the marriage of Baroness Otilie von Faber and Count Alexander zu Castell-Rüdenhausen.

Faber-Castell produces CO₂-neutral, thanks to its progressive forestry projects that symbolize the company's sense of social and ecological responsibility.

Everything written here is true. More or less. But let's start from the beginning.

I've always been an ambitious person. Driven by curiosity and creative ideas, I was constantly looking for new ideas and knowledge. I therefore discovered and learnt an incredible number of things. My courage to find out more and more gave me knowledge, success and pride. I created unique worlds from the things that I experienced. My faithful companion on my journey was the Essentio. Its slim design provides the clear line in my stories and gives shape and form to my thoughts. Emotional stories captured with my Essentio. A beginning and an end, and life in between – and so my new novel came into being. Since then, writing has been my passion and I wanted to share it. I was happy to see that my words also inspire other people. What could be more beautiful than sharing your passion with others and giving them joy?

This is a story from my life. The chapter in which I discovered my passion.
Write your next chapter with Essentio.

How does a new design come about? As a fashion designer, I am often asked this question. It starts with hundreds of sketches and even more doubts. But, at the end, applause always rings out for my collection! My designs and their creative process are very individual to me. However, one element is identical throughout all my creative processes: any new piece of work always starts by me taking up my favourite pen and giving free rein to my creativity: the NEO Slim. As soon as I put it to paper, the ideas flow out of me and I sketch everything that comes to mind. A couple of aspects are particularly important to me, as my pen is a central element in the development of new designs: excellent writing comfort and plenty of room for creativity of design. Just like my favourite designs, the NEO Slim is minimalist and purist. I always have my analogue companion with me, as I can find inspiration for my designs anywhere and at any time. Every design I present on the catwalk originates from one of these ideas.

Everyone can master the art of creating new ideas with joy and passion.

Romantic, baroque or modernist – sweeping elements, solid structures or clear forms. All structures are unique and once originated from a single idea. I am already starting to dream of the perfect finished work that will be created from them when I put my ideas down on paper and produce new sketches. A grand vision requires the right tools. Timeless colours, beautiful forms and precious materials have always inspired me and accompany me throughout my everyday life – and not just on paper. I really love creating designs with writing instruments that reflect my work: the dynamic silhouette of the e-motion range adds momentum to my drawings and, with its high-quality materials, always gets the best out of my ideas. The unique design of e-motion writing instruments inspires me to unleash my creativity. My passion is to develop my sketches with great attention to detail and create moving emotions with my work. I'm ready to do everything for my vision.

Every vision needs its form: on paper – or in your hand. Make your vision a reality with e-motion.

The new Fine Writing concept was created with and for a specific target group - the millennials. They are between 20 and 40 years old and like to consume brand-name products as an expression of their personal lifestyle. In the course of this, they are looking for brands which convey safety through true values and tradition, but also authentically live social responsibility and ecological awareness - brands like Faber-Castell. They are interested in durable products made out of special materials. The livable haptic of writing instruments out of wood, aluminium, metal or precious resin, this is what they connect with writing instruments of Faber-Castell.

Write to create.

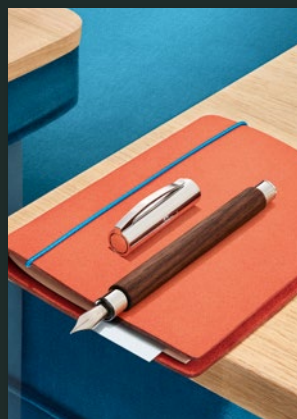

Creativity is the core competence of the future. It will be essential for consumers in the future, both privately and professionally. As a countertrend to digitization, not only creative writing but also writing by hand is becoming increasingly important. Writing is seen as an act of consistency and self-reflection. But also special decisions, achievements and moments of a phase of life are still sealed with high-quality writing instruments. Creativity, a broad range of colours, but also success are characteristics that millennials worldwide associate with the brand Faber-Castell. Out of those insights, the new claim „Write to create“ was developed. The four inspiring and creative personalities of the architect, writer, songwriter and fashion designer present our Fine Writing „tools“ in their creative moment. The bright colours of the new concept surprise and catch the eye of creative people from afar.

* Anodising means that the aluminium is treated to form a protective outer layer of oxide. This protective layer gives the HEXO its special colour and makes the lightweight even more robust.

Creativity at the cutting edge, infinite ideas and melodious visions: that is my world as a songwriter. I am totally in my element when the first notes for a new song take shape in my head. Always open to new approaches, I let every note speak for itself. I write down every melody that comes into my head, ultimately creating a perfect work of art. My new song evolves slowly but surely, smoothing off the rough edges. Gradually, the lines come to life and make the audience dream. HEXO is my constant companion, inspiring me about my work. Its distinctive design encourages me to be proud of my individual ideas and imbue my songs with my personal, emotional inspiration. Line by line; I always find the right tone with HEXO. Ideas become words. Words become a beat. And the crowd sings along.

Fountain pen knowledge

The right nib width

The heart of every fountain pen is the high-quality nib. Thanks to different nib widths, you can find your individual writing style and typeface easily.

All nib widths are suitable for right- and left-handers, thanks to the special cut of the iridium corn.

The best way to find your own suitable nib width is to test the fountain pen in a specialty store. The writing samples give you an orientation, if it is not possible to visit a specialty store or you like to order your writing instruments online.

The fountain pen only writes fluently when both nib wings glide on the paper when writing. Therefore different nib widths are offered. The width of the nib should be adjusted to the individual writing posture and typeface.

EF (extra fine):

For light handwriting without pressure.
Very fine typeface.

M (medium):

Suitable for any handwriting. Medium line width with normal writing pressure.

F (fine):

For a small handwriting with little pressure
Fine typeface.

B (bold):

For large handwriting and signatures. Strong, broad line width with normal writing pressure.

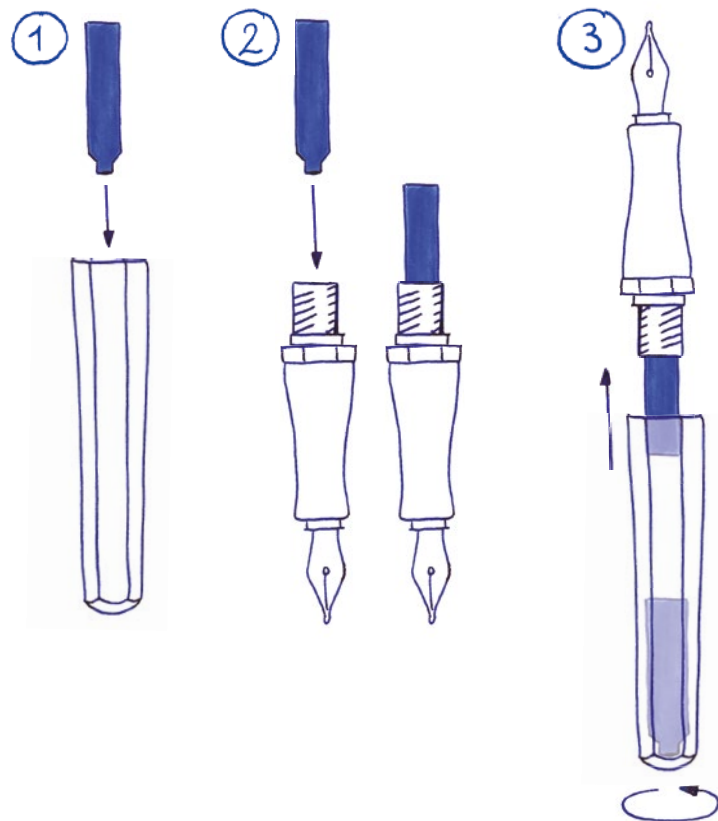

Fountain pen knowledge

The correct insertion of a cartridge

Your fountain pen cartridge is empty? The longevity of your writing instrument can be increased by the correct insertion of the ink cartridge.

The correct insertion of a cartridge is important to conserve the ink duct. Only small standard cartridges should be inserted in Fine Writing writing instruments.

1. There should always be two cartridges in the fountain pen. The first cartridge should be inserted in the barrel with the top down.
2. Insert the second cartridge controlled and only with soft pressure in the ink duct.
3. Twist the fountain pen barrel on the front piece.

The correct insertion of a converter

The choice of filling system is a matter of personal taste. The use of a converter with an ink glass can replace a standard ink cartridge.

For a classic and sustainable writing experience, the Fine Writing writing instruments can also be used with a converter

1. Twist the black grip of the converter to the left until the spiral in the transparent tank is completely pushed down.
2. Dip the nib with the converter or the converter alone completely in the ink glass.
3. Twist the black grip of the converter to the right until the tank is completely filled.
4. Pull the nib or converter out of the ink glass.
5. Twist the black grip carefully back to the left, to drip two drops of the ink back to the ink glass. This avoids air in the converter.

Our Tip:

Splashes may occur, especially during the first attempts, despite correct application - prepare a fiber-free cloth, e.g. a paper towel, beforehand.

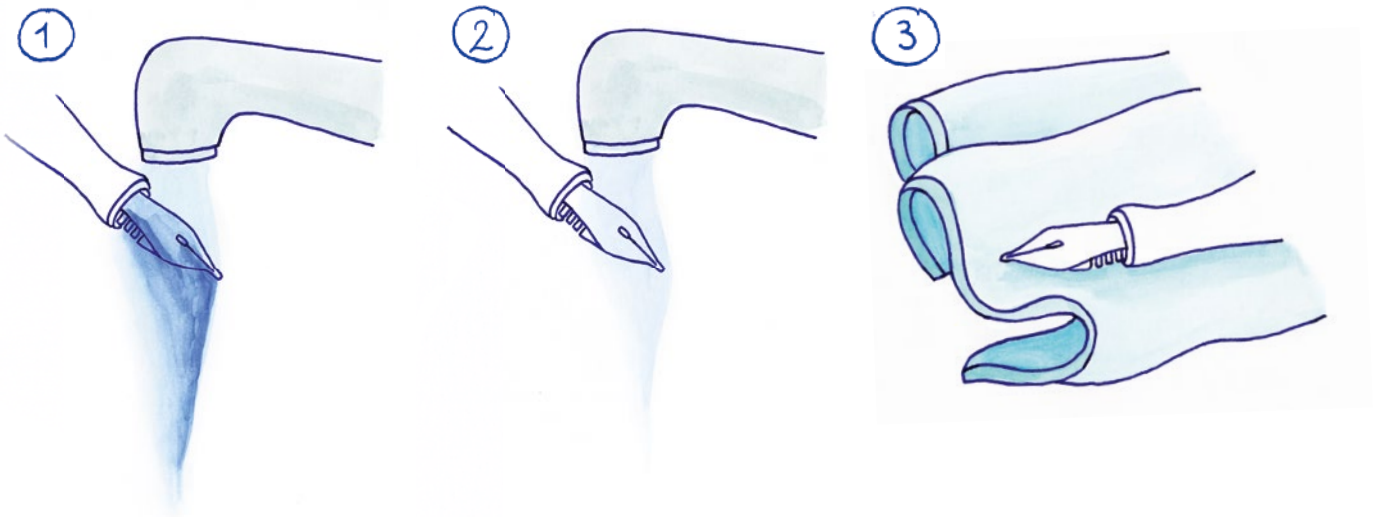

Caring and cleaning the fountain pens

When caring and cleaning the fountain pen regularly, its a reliable companion - for a lifetime.

Fountain pens in general should be cleaned regularly. Even when changing the colour of the ink or when its dried out.

1. Nib and ink duct should be rinsed under lukewarm, clear running water...
2. ... until no ink stain is recognizable.
3. Afterwards it should be dried with an absorbent paper.

For orientation: with blue ink, the fountain pen should be cleaned every three months, with colored ink about once a month, as these contain more dyes and could thus more easily reduce the ink flow.

Our tip - proper storage:

To prevent the ink from drying out, we recommend storing the fountain pen lying down and with the cap closed.
